TODAY AT 3 P.M.: Governor Sisolak to provide update on Phase 1 of the Nevada United: Roadmap to Recovery Plan

Carson City, NV — Today, Nevada Governor Steve Sisolak will hold a press conference to provide an update on Phase 1 of the Nevada United: Roadmap to Recovery Plan.

The press conference will be held at 3 p.m., Friday, May 15 inside Room 2149 of the Nevada State Legislature in Carson City and will be streamed online on the leg.state.nv.us website.

Members of the media may enter the building after 2:30 p.m. and are asked to enter through the rear, near the East entrance by the parking garage. Reporters are encouraged to wear facial coverings and will be subject to temperature screenings upon entering the building.

TV stations will be able to bring in their own camera equipment but must set up their cameras six feet apart, and are asked to limit the size of their crew to maintain social distancing during the press conference.

To ensure a clear audio and visual feed of the Governor, the press conference will not be able to accommodate a phone-in feed for reporters who are not physically present. Reporters are encouraged to work with their sister/affiliate stations to obtain the feed and submit questions in advance.

Last week, Gov. Sisolak announced that the State was ready to enter Phase 1 of the plan. He also outlined what was expected of Nevadans when they venture out as well as the statewide safety standards that businesses would need to follow in order to resume operations on Saturday, May 9, 2020.
